1. Inaugural Address

- The programme commenced with a brief welcome address by Dr. M. Ramakrishnan, TLC Coordinator, who highlighted the objective of the session and emphasized the importance of proper examination-related practices and outcome-based education.
- He underscored the need for accuracy and transparency in examination processes to ensure academic integrity.

2. Technical Session

- Dr. C. Manivel, Deputy COE delivered a comprehensive session on Examination-related Work and CO Attainment, focusing on both procedural and analytical aspects.
- The following key points were elaborated in detail:
  - Roles and responsibilities of faculty members in continuous internal assessment and university examinations
  - Guidelines for framing internal assessment question papers aligned with Course Outcomes (COs) and Bloom's Taxonomy
  - Mapping of questions with COs and appropriate weightage distribution
  - Evaluation procedures, valuation norms, and moderation practices
  - Proper maintenance of answer scripts, mark sheets, and evaluation records
  - Internal assessment mark calculation procedures and documentation
  - CO attainment calculation methods using direct and indirect assessment tools
  - Analysis of CO attainment results and interpretation of attainment levels
  - Identification of gaps in attainment and formulation of corrective actions

- Preparation of CO attainment reports for academic audits and accreditation
- Importance of timely submission of examination-related documents
- Best practices to ensure uniformity and transparency in assessment processes

- The resource person stressed the importance of using CO attainment analysis as a tool for continuous improvement in teaching and learning processes.

3. Interaction and Clarification

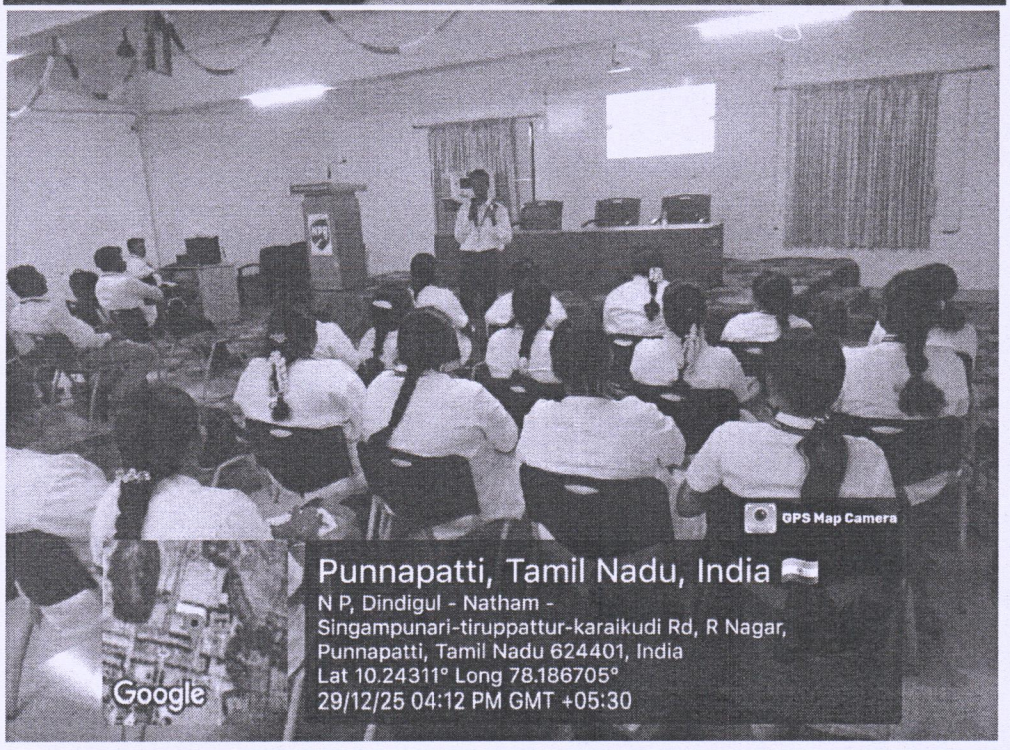

- The session was highly interactive, with newly joined faculty members actively seeking clarifications on examination procedures, CO mapping, attainment calculations, and documentation formats.
- Dr. C. Manivel, Deputy COE addressed all queries and shared practical insights and real-time examples based on institutional practices and regulatory requirements.

4. Conclusion

- The session concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by the TLC Coordinator.
- The participants expressed that the session was highly informative and enhanced their understanding of examination-related responsibilities and outcome-based assessment practices.
